

ORDER NUMBER: 1234567

Dear GeoTrust Customer,

GeoTrust is unable to verify the order details you have provided in our currently available public resources. To continue processing your Extended Validation certificate for Acme, GeoTrust needs to receive a professional opinion letter from your legal counsel or an independent professional accountant.

The opinion letter template and instructions are provided for your convenience below the dotted line. Please have your legal counsel or an independent professional accountant return the letter to GeoTrust Extended Validation Customer Support by fax or email.

If you have submitted this opinion letter already, please disregard this message. Please include your order number on all faxes. Your prompt attention to this matter is greatly appreciated!

Dear Legal/Accounting Practitioner,

You have been asked by your client to provide a legal opinion to aid them in obtaining a GeoTrust Extended Validation SSL Digital Certificate. The Extended Validation (EV) SSL Certificate standard is intended to provide an improved level of authentication of entities that request digital certificates for securing transactions on their Web sites. A new vetting format, which all issuing Certification Authorities (CAs) must comply with, ensures a uniform standard for certificate issuance. This means that all CAs must adhere to the same high security standards when processing certificate requests.

Because of the heightened assurance level of this product, GeoTrust must take added steps, as detailed in the current version of the industry standard CA/Browser Forum EV SSL Certificate guidelines: <http://www.cabforum.org/documents.html>

The legal opinion can be used to verify any or all of the following items:

- Address of the place of business
- Assumed name of client
- Telephone number at place of business
- Exclusive right to use a domain name
- The name, title, authority, and agency of organizational contact

The information above must be verified by yourself. The Guidelines allow lawyers/accountants to include customary limitations and disclaimers for opinion letters in their jurisdiction, "provided that the scope of the disclaimed responsibility is not so great as to eliminate any substantial risk (financial, professional, and/or reputational) to you should the legal opinion prove to be erroneous." An example of such disclaimer language that GeoTrust could not accept, other than for the authorization of the Organizational Contact is, "We have assumed the accuracy of the oral or written statements and other information of public officials, and officers and representatives of our Client, without having made independent investigation of factual matters". Any such disclaimers of investigation and/or your knowledge of facts could nullify the opinion. Once the opinion letter is submitted, GeoTrust will contact the legal/accounting board/association that issued your license to verify your professional standing. Using the contact information they have on record, GeoTrust will then contact you to confirm the accuracy of the opinion.

Should you have any questions, contact GeoTrust Customer Support using the contact information in the email signature.
